WHAT

Hack out for summer is an initiative by Spotify Street Team and LiTeHack. It is a 100% non profit event by students for students. It is also 100 % free to participate. All we ask from you is a happy made on interest for concept, design and/or tech.

We want all students to be able to participate in this great day of innovation, inspiration and learning. Therefore we are competing in 3 categories. So you absolutely do not have to be Zlatan at programming to join.

Our aim with this, except having fun, is to introduce you to the tools and possibilities that are right out there waiting for you to build cool stuff, you just haven't started because you didn't know they existed. So make an investment in yourself, come and hack with us and find new cool areas connected to what you study. Then go nuts on cool projects over the summer. Wish hopefully you'll come back in September more motivated than ever.

WHERE

During the day we will be in the amazing spaces of Strykerbröden. With whiteboard tables, big windows towards the river and lots of space for the teams we think it is the best location possible to host this.

During the evening we will be in the Bastro of Visualiseringscentret C.

We will wine, dine and enjoy each others presentations and company.

If you are up for dancing the night away we will head to Trappan's closing night "Tän & Glöm" to properly welcome summer.

SIGN UP

We recommend teams of 3 - 5 people, preferably from different programs with different skills. You'll need a cross functional team to build the most epic summer app, right? Pick one person responsible for the communications with us and let that person sign your team up right here.

Don't have a team but are really keen to join hofs2014? Post on the events Facebook wall and we'll try to mix & match to put you in a great team.

Sq, what are you waiting for?

Join epic, magic, #hofs2014
